

EAST BAY REGIONAL PARK DISTRICT
BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING
AGENDA STAFF REPORT

DATE	December 17, 2024
TITLE	Authorization to Award a Contract to Print and Distribute Regional in Nature (RIN) Activity Guide for the Year 2025 in the Amount of $363,000
DIVISION	Public Affairs
FROM	Jordan Traverso, Communications Division Lead Sabrina Landreth, General Manager
APPROVED	Sabrina Landreth, General Manager

RECOMMENDATION

The General Manager recommends that the Board of Directors award a contract to the San Francisco Chronicle to print six issues of the East Bay Regional Park District's Regional in Nature (RIN) Activity Guide planned for fiscal year 2025, and that the board authorizes execution of the contract. It is further recommended that distribution of the publication be authorized to include 36 newspapers representing weekly and monthly media that serve Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

BACKGROUND

The East Bay Regional Park District (Park District) began publishing the Regional in Nature (RIN) Activity Guide in 1994. The RIN is one of the current methods used to convey to a large number of East Bay residents general park information, programs, events, and news. Anecdotal review of select program attendance has demonstrated that marketing the Park District via RIN printed inserts in mainstream and targeted publications, including ethnic media print publications, reaches broad and diverse audiences and helps bring them to the parks.

Since 2007, the San Francisco Chronicle has won each annual bidding contest for printing and distributing the RIN based on its competitive print proposals, which have provided local print processes, upgraded paper quality, and full color on all pages, thus enhancing its quality and effectiveness. These proposals have also included free advertisements in both print and online versions of the Chronicle. The advertisements promote the six RIN issues and Park District events and programs, such as Youth Job Fairs, Brazilian Room as a special events venue, Sunol's Spring Wildflower Festival, Ardenwood's Historic Harvest Festival, and many others. The advertisements have also promoted the Regional Parks Foundation. Free ads in 2025 will include two full-page color ads or eight 1/4-page ads, six 1/4-page Regional in Nature teaser ads on the day of insertion, and twelve online banner ads.

Total circulation of the RIN is estimated at 405,000 copies per issue. The RIN will be sent to Regional Parks Foundation members, community centers, libraries, senior centers, clinics, among others. The 36 newspapers that will distribute the RIN in 2025 are:

ANALYSIS

The San Francisco Chronicle was the only publisher/printer that submitted a responsive bid meeting the standards necessary to print the RIN publication. The region's second leading newsprint publishing organization, Bay Area News Group, did not submit a bid.

Staff has considered alternative publications and distribution methods, such as separating the printing and distribution. This resulted in much higher costs. Staff does not recommend any of these alternatives. Combining print and distribution costs through an existing newspaper publication program with operational capacity provides cost savings and reliability.

FISCAL IMPACT

Based on an estimated circulation of 405,000 copies of each RIN issue, San Francisco Chronicle's pricing is $197,000 to print six issues in 2025. This includes the printing of the 12-page RIN and distribution in its Sunday edition, plus shipping the RIN to 11 different locations for media to pick up. The cost to distribute all six issues of RIN inserted into the selected 36 publications is $166,000.

Total cost to contract the printing and distribution of the RIN for the year will be $363,000. In 2025, the Park District will receive over $73,000 in free advertising in the print publication and online platform of the San Francisco Chronicle.
