Legislative Program Summary

The Government and Legislative Affairs program of the East Bay Regional Park District (Park District) works with elected officials and agency partners at the local, state, and Federal levels to promote and advance agency initiatives. The program efforts focus on securing funding and advocating for policies which align with identified project needs and priorities. Led by the Park District's mission, Board of Directors, and General Manager, the Government and Legislative Affairs team engages actively with local, state, and Federal authorities to advocate for relevant funding and policies. They maintain strategic relationships through regular meetings, site visits, and events with elected officials, external agency partners, and community members. The team conducts analytical research and surveys to support the agency's advocacy goals.

Under the oversight of the Board Legislative Committee, the Legislative Program sets multi-year goals and annual objectives. These goals, referred to as the Legislative Program's Advocacy Goals, enable the Park District to respond effectively to emerging opportunities across local, state, and Federal levels. Concurrently, the objectives work to support proactive engagement with elected officials and agency leadership to advance priorities established by the Board of Directors and General Manager. The Government and Legislative Affairs team's responsibilities extend to coordinating with eight Federal legislative offices, 12 state legislative offices, 10 county supervisor offices, and 33 cities encompassing 180 council members. Additionally, the team supports the Park Advisory Committee, a 21-member public commission which provides community perspectives and advice to staff and the Board on the issues, projects and policies of the Park District.

History of Government and Legislative Affairs

The unique nature of the East Bay Regional Park District began in 1934 when, in the midst of the Depression, voters imposed a tax of 5¢ for every $100 of property owned to fund the creation of a Public Resources Code 5500 Special Park District in the East Bay. In advance of this vote, a survey was commissioned by the landscape architecture firm Olmsted Brothers and Ansel F. Hall which highlighted the need to preserve East Bay lands as parks. Women's groups in the 1930's notably advocated to turn out the vote through lunches with elected officials. In 1936, the Park District started with three parks spanning 2,166 acres. All three parks were located in Alameda County. From 1934 - 1939 the Park District benefitted from work by Civilian Conservation Corps and Works Progress Administration crews, whose skilled labor can still be found in District infrastructure today. The Park District's growth would not be possible without the public support it relies on for funding. Currently, 87% of the Park District's funding base comes from property tax, while the remainder comes from robust state and Federal grants, as well as local parcel tax and bond measures.

The increasingly urbanized East Bay community continues to support the Park District as it consistently delivers on services and projects benefitting the public. In 1988, over two thirds of voters in Alameda and Contra Costa counties voted to pass Measure AA which provided $225 million in bond funding for the Park District and local parks. This was the first bond measure for the acquisition and preservation of thousands of acres of land. In 2008, 72% of East Bay voters chose to extend the bond measure by passing Measure WW, providing $500 million in bonding authority. Measure WW included $125 million for a local grant program which benefitted municipal park departments and unincorporated areas of both counties during the 2007-2009 recession and beyond. In 2004, voters in the northwestern area of the Park District supported a parcel tax to fund, maintain and enhance services, including providing for additional staff, by voting for Measure CC. This tax was then extended in 2018 with an 85.6% vote for Measure FF.

The Park District's mission is to preserve a rich heritage of natural and cultural resources, and to provide open space, parks, safe trails, essential healthy activity and environmental education to the public. These services are meaningful to the growing and diverse communities of Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Increasing opportunities to provide welcoming visitor use facilities is a primary goal of the Park District's advocacy. To ensure the community remains at the center of its work, the Park District has conducted surveys of the public since 1976 to understand the community's needs and interests. The first survey identified a 94% user satisfaction rate by visitors. In compliment, a 2022 scientific survey of East Bay residents confirmed 94% of respondents agree East Bay parks are important for their community, 93% agreed they are a valuable public resource and 85% agreed they hold a sense of ownership of these parks agreeing they are theirs to care for and enjoy.

The Park District is governed by a publicly elected Board of Directors who each serve four - year terms. Each Director represents a specific geographic area of the Park District known as a Ward. Currently, Wards consist of approximately 400,000 individuals, roughly the same size as a state Assembly district. Directors must be a resident of their Ward to serve on the Board. The Board appoints a General Manager, who is responsible for leading the Park District. The tenth General Manager, Sabrina Landreth, was appointed in March 2021.
